PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Entrepreneurial Data Science student who builds and ships real business systems, not just class projects. Founded an independent consultancy designing dashboards, CRMs, booking platforms, and workflow automations for small-business clients — from initial requirements gathering through deployment and ongoing support. Comfortable across the analytics stack (Python, SQL, R, Tableau, Excel) with hands-on experience in data cleaning, statistical analysis, and dashboard development. Combines technical execution with client-facing business consulting, stakeholder communication, and process improvement. Seeking a data analyst or data science internship where business context and technical rigor both matter.
